

No Wild Goose Story Fowl's Lonely Vigil Near Here Is Mystery

This is a Father Goose story. Once upon a time there lived a happy boy goose on a lovely, rolling farm near Salem. There were 87 acres of green grass to gobble down, water to swim in, everything to make a goose happy. Best of all was a young lady to love.

Then one day, after the young lady goose said, "I do!" the heavy axe of misfortune fell. A stray dog killed his lady love while the master was gone.

THE SWAIN FELL INTO deep mourning and swore to take up a lonely vigil to prove his undying love. For two years beside the road past the farm he stood in silent protest to the world's cruelty. But it would never bring his true love back. It hasn't to this day.

The part about the vigil is true; why the goose keeps the vigil is pure speculation. The story is no more far-fetched than some that have sprouted up over the near-legendary goose at the Maurice Young farm, halfway between Salem and Lisbon. JFK Honors Nobel Winners 49 Recipients at White House Dinner

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy toasted his 173 dinner guests—Nobel Prize winners and men and women of letters—as the most extraordinary collection of talent ever gathered at the White House.

He called them all together Sunday night—a potpourri of the famed—to honor the Nobel Prize winners of the Western Hemisphere.

The 49 Nobel winners on hand for the biggest dinner held at the White House in modern times greeted each other with delight. They said no one before had ever thought to bring so many of them together at once.

In gay, good humor, some started after-dinner waltzing in the north entrance hallway where Air Force musicians were playing.

One of the first to take a turn in black tie on the marble floor was Dr. Linus C. Pauling, Nobel Prize winning chemist who only hours before was picketing the White House in the rain with a group protesting resumption of U.S. nuclear air tests.

Dancing usually is confined to the East ballroom. Mrs. Kennedy looking on with amusement at the impromptu display, declared it was a good idea and said, "We'll have to do this again."

Many of the guests—famed in fields from physics to peace—stopped the President and his wife to ask for autographs on their engraved dinner menus.

There were some who had never before set foot in the White House. There was astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., only recently fêted there as the nation's hero—the first American to orbit the earth.

The President, raising his glass in a champagne toast, told his guests that the dinner party in a sense was an attempt to recognize two very basic drives and pressures in our lives—"the pursuit of knowledge and the pursuit of peace."

He said he hoped it would encourage young people in America and in this hemisphere to develop these drives.

Noting that the Nobel Prize was awarded without regard to nationality, Kennedy declared "this hemisphere has been able to develop an atmosphere which has permitted the happy pursuit of knowledge, and of peace."

Kennedy started his toast with a touch of humor. He reported that Nobel peace prize winner Lester Pearson of Canada had informed him a Canadian newspaperman referred to the dinner as "the President's Easter egg-head roll on the White House lawn."

"I want to deny this," said the President. When he called it the most extraordinary gathering of talent at the White House, Kennedy added lightly—"with the possible exception of when Thomas Jefferson dined alone."

Addresses CENTO Delegates

Rusk Warns Reds On Secrecy Mania

LONDON (AP)—U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk warned today the East-West arms race cannot be ended unless and until Soviet Union abandons its obsession on secrecy. He spoke at the opening ministerial session of the Central Treaty Organization (CENTO).

"The Soviet Union has, thus far, been unwilling to agree to an effective treaty banning all nuclear testing," Rusk said. "In the circumstances, the United States has had no choice but to assume its responsibility to look to the common defense and conduct a limited series of atmospheric nuclear tests."

Rusk then added: "Secrecy and disarmament are incompatible." Rusk assured America's friends in CENTO that the United States would go on working with them to insure the defense and stability of the Middle East against continued threat of Communist aggression.

CENTO consists of Pakistan, Iran, Turkey and Britain. The United States takes part in its work as an associate member. The alliance grew out of the Baghdad Pact.

Pakistan, with the support of Iran and Turkey, has been urging the United States to play a bigger role in Middle East defense, possibly by changing its associate membership to full membership. Those nations also have been pressing for an American general to be commander of the CENTO planning staff, but neither the Americans nor the British like the idea.

Foreign Minister Abbas Aram of Iran urged the United States and Britain to pay greater attention to the economic needs of the regional members of the alliance—mainly by providing more help.

Neither Defense Minister K. M. Sheikh of Pakistan nor Foreign Minister Feridun Cemal Erkin of Turkey in their speeches mentioned a desire for the United States to take a larger role. Rusk assured the ministers the United States is interested in co-operating with its friends around the globe in preserving common standards and interests.

2 Passengers Are Killed As Ships Collide

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—The Norwegian ship Tarantel, her right side ripped from water line to deck in a Chesapeake Bay collision Sunday, rested aground today while men from two Navy salvage vessels battled to keep her from settling deeper.

The bodies of two passengers killed when the Tarantel was rammed just about amidship by the Greek freighter Hellenic Splendor remained aboard the stricken vessel. The Greek ship, although heavily damaged, continued under her own power to Philadelphia.

Heavy fog shrouded the bay when the ships collided about 6:20 a.m. Sunday. Water poured through the gash in the Tarantel's side and she wallowed stern down. A tug and a Navy salvage vessel put lines aboard and were towing her toward a shipyard when she scraped aground.

The Coast Guard said the Tarantel's agents have decided to leave the vessel where she is until an underwater survey determines whether temporary patches should be made before she is towed into a shipyard for repair.

Pumps and men from the Navy salvage ships Recovery and Shalor battled to keep her from settling deeper but were not able to lighten her draft.

A third Navy salvage ship en route to the scene about four miles northeast of Cape Henry near the mouth of the Chesapeake Bay.

Passengers on the Tarantel who died in the collision were Richard Berry, about 40, of Westfield, N.J., and Mrs. Augusta Fabiani, about 55, of Montreal, wife of an Italian foreign service officer.

Three persons on the Tarantel were injured, none seriously.

There were seven passengers and a crew of 47 aboard the Tarantel as she headed into the bay from the Atlantic, en route to Newport News to pick up general cargo before proceeding to the Far East.

The Hellenic Splendor was bound out of the bay on a trip from Baltimore to Philadelphia.

Kennedy Urges Cooperation In Business

Assures C. of C.
U. S. Not Seeking To Control Prices

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy told the United States Chamber of Commerce today he wants to see an economy kept stable by the free forces of competition so the government will not need to intervene in the price-setting process.

The President delivered to the chamber's 50th annual meeting a sober appeal for cooperation among business, labor and government. He said this would keep the economy stable, protect the dollar, and expand foreign commerce.

"These areas where conflict exists between private interests and government interest must be met by all of us who care for our country," Kennedy said.

In his first speech to any business organization since he forced the steel industry to withdraw its April price increase—a move widely criticized in industry—Kennedy assured the 4,000 businessmen-delegates and their guests: "We do not seek to set prices."

Instead, he said, the government is trying to develop a climate in which there is cooperation of the several segments of the economy, and in which the free forces of competition will serve to prevent inflation from damaging the dollar and inflating prices to consumers.

Greeted With Ovation

Kennedy was greeted with a rising ovation as he entered Constitution Hall, but many of the delegates did not join in the applause.

But he quickly produced laughter with an observation that he was pleased to see that the chamber had chosen for its new president a man from Massachusetts.

Then he added with a smile: "I don't know how widely that view is shared here."

Kennedy complimented the chamber on its 50 years of service, declaring that the establishment of the chamber in 1912 was a turning point in the relationship of government with industry.

There was more laughter when he added: "And some say the events of this April also marked a turning point." From that reference to the steel-price battle, Kennedy went on to observe that he hoped this April would indeed have been a turning point in the sense that it may have awakened wider knowledge of the necessity for understanding between business, government and labor.

Even though the cheers from chambers of commerce around the country were not overwhelming or deafening when he was elected, Kennedy said, he has been impressed with the cooperation given by business groups ever since when the country has become involved in crisis.

In a speech prepared for Kennedy's scheduled appearance on the same platform, Chamber President Richard Wagner defended the steel price increase which Kennedy forced steel firms to cancel 2½ weeks ago.

Lisbon Resident Dies Of Smoke Inhalation

LISBON — Olan Wells, 59, died of smoke inhalation about 12:50 a.m. Sunday in his apartment above the National Brands Store on the East Liverpool Road, just east of the village limits. He apparently fell asleep while smoking.

County Coroner William A. Kozloski ruled accidental death. Policeman Leon T. Zahndt, first officer at the scene, said neighbors found Wells on the floor inside his living room door and carried him outside.

Fire Chief Thirl Flugan said the smoke came from an overstuffed chair. Smoke was so dense, he said, that firemen with airpicks could scarcely see. The seat of the chair was burned out and the back was still smoldering when firemen located the source of the smoke.

Wells apparently dozed while smoking and set the chair on fire, Chief Flugan said. The backs of the victim's legs were burned.

5 Injured In Traffic Accidents

Five persons were hurt in two area highway accidents Sunday night.

A Canton man and a New Springfield couple were admitted to Salem City Hospital with injuries received in a head-on collision of two cars on Rt. 165, between Greenford and New Albany, at 8:21 p.m.

Injured were: David Yurosek, 36, of 1006 3rd St., Canton; multiple lacerations of face, head and right arm. Herbert Wilson, 67, of 155 S. Boardman St., New Springfield; laceration of the nose, possible concussion, fractured ribs and contusions of the forehead.

Mrs. Dorothy L. Wilson, 65, his wife; possible fracture of the right hip, contusions of the mouth, lacerations of the face and possible internal injuries.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson are listed in fair condition. Yurosek is fairly good.

Officers from the Ohio Highway Patrol barracks at Canfield say Yurosek apparently was attempting to pass another vehicle when he crashed head-on into the Wilson couple's car near the crest of a hill.

A 13-year-old RD 3, Salem, boy escaped possible serious injury at 7:15 last night when he drove a farm tractor into the path of a car on the Depot Rd., three miles south of Salem.

The youth, Glenn H. Harris, was released after treatment at a Salem hospital for abrasions of the left hip. A passenger in the car which collided with the tractor, Donna Mathey, 21, of Washingtonville, suffered contusions and abrasions of the forehead and left knee. She also was released from the hospital after treatment.

The Patrol said Harris was driving the tractor north when he made a left turn into a private drive in front of the south-bound auto operated by Carl D. Mathey, 24, of Washingtonville. The tractor did not overturn. Harris was cited for making an improper turn.

No one was hurt in a two-car mishap at the junction of Rts. 14 and 7, about one mile south of the Mahoning County line, at 1:20 p.m. Saturday. The Patrol said Minnie Wilson, 72, of Jackson Center, Pa., went through a red traffic light and struck a car operated by Ronald E. Dennis, 21, of East Palestine, causing considerable property damage.

The Jackson Center woman was cited for the traffic light violation.

Judge Hart Dead In Alliance At 95

Former Ohio Supreme Court Judge William Lincoln Hart Sr., of 135 Overlook Drive, Alliance, died Sunday in the Alliance City Hospital where he had been a patient for several weeks. He was 95.

Judge Hart, a native of Highlandtown, Columbiana, served on Ohio's highest court bench from 1935 until he retired in 1957.

Born Feb. 5, 1867, he was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Franklin Hart. To prepare financially for college, Judge Hart started teaching at the age of 18 in the summer term of 1885 at Highlandtown. He taught the winter terms at Witch Hollow District, Columbiana County, Hazel Run, near his home, before entering Mount Union in 1888. He continued teaching at Votaw's School near Winona.

He received his bachelor's degree from Mount Union in 1896 and his law degree from the University of Michigan in 1897. Mount conferred the honorary degree of doctor of laws on Judge Hart in 1929.

He became a member of the Ohio Bar Association in 1897 and began practicing law in 1898.

He was first elected to the Ohio Supreme Court in 1934 and subsequently re-elected to two six-year terms.

He taught international law and international relations at Mount Union for 20 years, became a member of the board of trustees in 1921 and at his death was a trustee-at-large and first vice president of the board.

He was a member of the Alliance First Methodist Church where he was Men's Bible Class teacher for many years. He was the author of many articles for law magazines.

His first wife, Ida B. Caskey Hart died in 1947. He is survived by his wife, the former Nova E. Westfall, whom he married in 1949; two sons, Ian Bruce and William, Jr., both Canton law-

10,660 Local People In County Total

54,207 Get Polio Type III Vaccine

Dr. Leonard Pritchard of Columbiana, chairman of the Columbiana County polio campaign, today reminded the 54,207 persons who took the Type III oral vaccine in the two-day campaign last week and today to encircle May 23 and 26 on their calendars.

The current campaign against the disease will end then with administration of Type II vaccine. In Salem a total of 10,660 took the vaccine, 5,760 on Wednesday and 4,900 on Saturday.

"A few people are under the impression that since they had one type of the vaccine, they can ignore the others. All three types—I, II and III—must be taken for total immunization," Dr. Pritchard said.

Make-up stations are expected to swell the total above 55,000. These are being held today at the courthouse in Lisbon and Friday at the health department in Salem.

The total reported vaccinated includes 1,700 Wellsville school children who received vaccine today. In that city pupils were still on vacation when most children were given the immunization drink.

Totals at other locations in the county were: Columbiana, 4,607; Lisbon, 3,272; East Palestine, 4,308; Leetonia, 2,614; Hanoverton, 3,339; and East Liverpool, 21,207.

The measure is expected to receive the necessary four votes for passage. A similar ordinance was defeated one year ago by a narrow 4-3 margin. Those opposing the measure said they believed the estimated $17,000 needed for hard-surfaced tennis courts could be better used on other park improvements.

Approval of the ordinance has been urged by C. F. Tomlinson, superintendent of parks and recreation; the park commission; and the three-member parks and playgrounds committee of City Council. They say the tennis courts will probably be the last capital improvements project undertaken at Centennial Park for several years.

Immediate Parley Not Planned

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan appear to be broadening their joint approach to summit diplomacy in a move toward more informal contacts with Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

This seems to be one of the chief results of the weekend White House conference between the American and British leaders.

Another reported result is agreement to soften as far as possible U.S. and British conflicts of interest over reshaping worldwide trade patterns on Britain's entry into the European Common Market.

Blame Soviet Union

In a communique Sunday Kennedy and Macmillan blamed the Soviet Union for the current series of U.S. nuclear weapons tests and pledged to work for disarmament and a ban on testing.

The criticism of the Soviet Union was muted and indirect and apparently reflected a desire by Kennedy and Macmillan to keep on good terms with Khrushchev.

The summit maneuver presumably reflects the same attitude and is pointed toward future weeks rather than an immediate heads of government meeting. In fact it was learned that one objective Kennedy and Macmillan have in mind is to establish a pattern of talking with Khrushchev occasionally without having to have a big formal conference.

"They think it should be possible," one well-informed diplomat explained, "to have more flexibility in summit diplomacy—to get together from time to time without having a huge international circus."

Door Open To Talks

British information denied that Macmillan has any plan to rush off to Moscow and British and American officials both said the present moment is not ripe for summitry. The statement did, however, open the door to new possibilities—a series of top-level East-West talks, involving two, three, or four men depending on the nature of the problem. Khrushchev's reaction will be watched with interest.

The communique seemed to

Soviet Spaceman Hits Manhattan Tourist Trail

NEW YORK (AP)—Soviet cosmonaut Gherman Titov has discovered that going around the globe 17 times is a snap compared to orbiting nighttime Manhattan.

The Soviet spaceman and his pretty brunette wife, Tamara, 24, wasted little time Sunday night in hitting the tourist trail.

A 6:30 p.m. they were walking down the ramp from a Soviet turboprop airliner at Idlewild Airport. At 7:30 p.m. they were arriving at the Soviet United Nations mission headquarters on Park Avenue.

They took only an hour and a half to freshen up before they were off again.

Before the tour started, Titov said he was anxious to meet American astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. "We will have quite a lot to talk about," Titov added through an interpreter. Titov is to attend the international space conference in Washington, D.C., later this week.

During Titov's tour of Manhattan he kept smiling, and responding with friendly gestures to the attention that appeared to take him by surprise.

Expect Offers Spring Check List to Handy Homeowners

Arrival of spring and the warmer weather turns the thoughts of a homeowner to the outside appearance of his house.

Wes Gatewood, a housing specialist for Allied Chemical claims that the day or two it generally takes to repair winter's ravages and perform spring's touch-up needs can be well worth the effort.

"It may be that some homes need major repairs as a result of the hard winter most of the country experienced, but for the most part an annual spring check-up turns up only minor jobs that a home handyman can do before they become major projects," he says.

Gatewood prepared a check list which a homeowner can take with him for reference when he conducts his personal exterior check. "It covers basic points and may help avoid the major repair jobs facing about 10 million homeowners this year because they let their houses become run-down."

Gate wood suggests checking:

1. GROUND CHECK: Check the ground around the foundation where washouts may have left holes. These holes will fill with water with almost every rain, and the puddles can leak through any cracks in the masonry. Holes should be filled with layers of sand or gravel, topped with sod at grade level. Exposed roots or shrubs or trees should be re-covered.

2. FOUNDATION: What may have been hairline cracks last autumn may have become sizable openings by now. Cracks should be repaired with a pitch base waterproofing cement that can be applied with a pointing tool, putty knife or trowel. Check deteriorating mortar joints. Scrape out loose material and moisten the area around the joints. Apply cement and keep it moist for several days to be certain it will cure without additional cracking.

3. SIDING: Look for cracks, splints or decay in wooden siding and repair or replace where practical. While it is still too early to repaint siding, it is time to replace decayed or rotted boards. If painting the exterior of the house is a consideration, a wise homeowner might also consider application of asbestos cement siding shingles that are virtually maintenance-free.

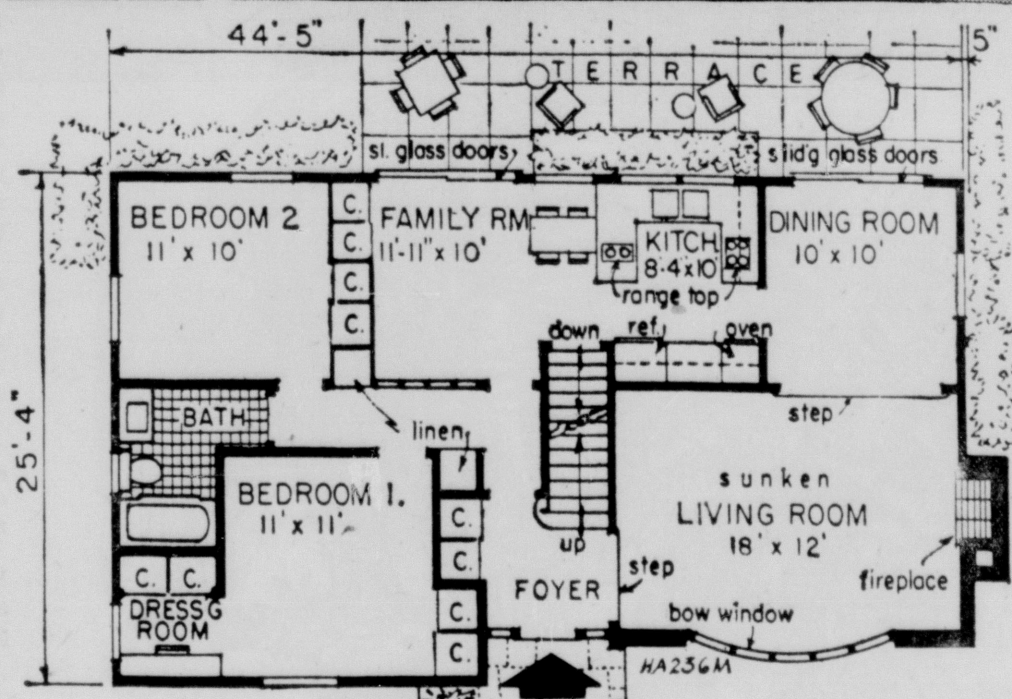

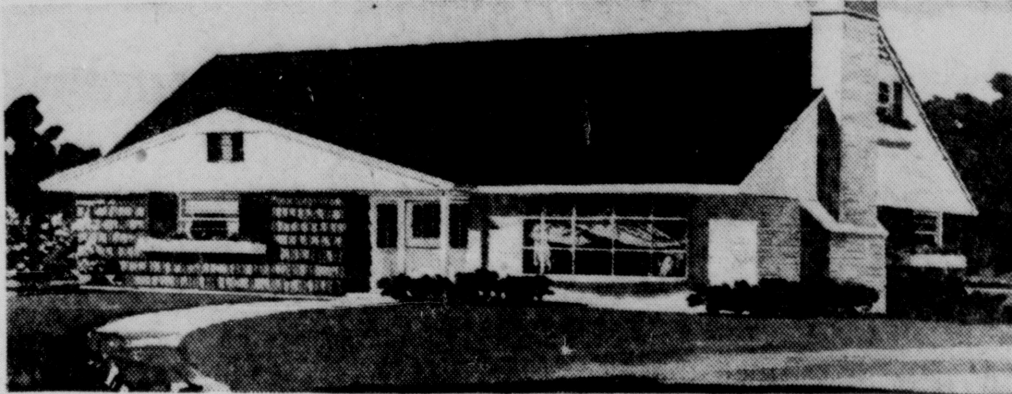

4. DOOR FRAMES AND WINDOWS: Check window heads and lintels (the framing above windows and doors) for deteriorating caulking and replace it where required. Check window panes for cracked putty and replace it where necessary.

5. WOODEN STAIRS: Outdoor wooden stairs and steps are often damaged during the winter. Warped boards can sometimes be corrected by turning them over and renailing in place. A coating of a wood preservative or heavy deck paint can generally assure longer life for wooden stairs and steps.

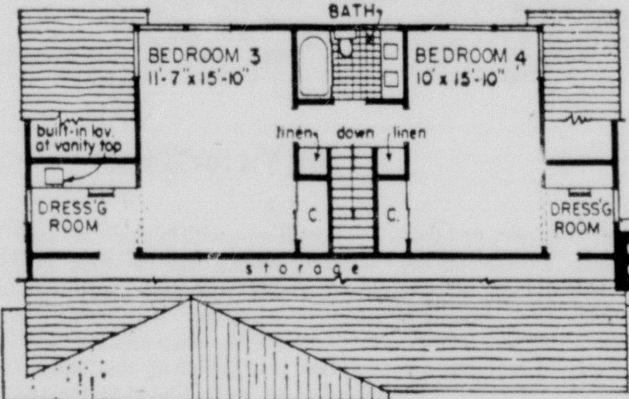

6. HARDWARE: Check metal hardware such as chain link fences, flagpoles, shutter clips or the metal bands that attach a TV aerial to a chimney for rust and corrosion. Unless they are decayed to a point of requiring replacement, an application of aluminum protective coating can bring back their sparkle and shine.

7. GUTTERS, DOWNSPOUTS: A severe winter may have left gutters and downspouts loose or weakened. With more rain to follow this spring, it's advisable to tighten up hangers, refastening them when necessary. This is also a good time to clean gutters of debris that collected in them during the winter. Also check to make certain downspouts are free from any obstruction.

8. ROOFING: Check for loose or curled shingles and re nail them in place. Cover the nail heads with roofing cement. Replace badly damaged shingles. Check condition of mortar in the chimney and also the flashing for holes, cracks or corrosion.

Average Do-It-Yourselfer Can Repair Stucco Cracks

Home owners who would tackle the repair of a wooden or brick house often will steer clear of attempting a similar job with stucco.

That's because stucco is something of an unknown quantity to most laymen. But there is nothing mysterious about it. Stucco is merely exterior portland cement plaster and, as such, can be repaired by the average do-it-yourselfer. Major jobs, of course, require the services of a professional.

HERE ARE SOME solutions for home owners faced with the prospect of repairing cracked stucco:

1. If cracks are minor, seal the surface with water-borne cement or latex base paints. If the surface previously was painted with an oil base paint, similar material should be used.

2. If cracks are somewhat more prominent, but no "wide open," they may be cleaned out and filled with a material such as portland cement or cement base paint (natural color). Use a dry paint brush for this. It's much easier. After this material is placed, moisten the surface lightly. Or, if desired, the cracks may be enlarged slightly and filled with a mortar of prepared patching mixture or cement and sand.

3. Larger cracks should be chipped back and filled with a stiff mix of portland cement and sand. Take care to thoroughly wet down the adjacent areas at least an hour before applying mortar.

4. Where stucco cracks are large and the material appears to be loose from its backing, such areas should be removed. Because such a condition often indicates that the stucco failed to bond to the backing or that something has destroyed the bond, it is best to cover the backing with self-furring expanded metal lath and then to replaster.

5. Large breaks and bulges, or general deterioration, usually call for professional services and a complete "overcoating" job. Such work can not only erase existing defects, but new color, style or texture can be created.

IF THE OLD STUCCO is too bad, it may have to be removed. If it is, waterproof paper is applied to the building and self-furring metal lath nailed over it. If not, the self-furring metal lath may be applied directly to the old stucco. Either way, the balance of the work is the same: 3/8 inch of new stucco is laid on in three coats.

In all cases where repairs are necessary, it is important to determine the cause if possible. Neglected maintenance is most often the indirect cause, with water seepage the most prominent direct cause. Thoroughly check all flashings, drips, gutters and downspouts. Sometimes roof repairs are indicated by stucco failures. Keep caulking around openings (doors, windows) tight; don't apply caulking too thin, or feather out the edges. A proper bead of caulking should be shaped like a piece of cotton clothesline.

'Moat' Of Light Helps to Protect Your Residence

In medieval days, a favorite device for protecting an estate was the moat, a ditch of water surrounding a castle.

Today homeowners are putting up a "moat" of another kind to protect their homes from intruders.

Its outdoor lighting, a simple, practical and effective expedient which serves many functions, the most important of which is homeowner protection according to American Home Lighting Institute.

Prowlers thrive on darkness. An outdoor lighting system, no matter how modest, goes a giant step in keeping them away from the home.

Outdoor lighting also reduces accident hazards and extends a bright welcome to wanted guests at night. And with outdoor living becoming more popular, light outdoors extends the living space of the home for recreational purposes.

The minimum lighting recommended is at least one light fixture at each entrance to the home. One or more directional fixtures, such as a floodlight, spotlight or post lanterns for the yard and driveway entrance areas are desirable.

For those who desire portable lights, a post light with a spike which can be driven into the ground is available as are portable mushroom fixtures for lighting gardens and walks.

The house itself can be dramatically lighted by concealing spotlights or floodlamps in shrubbery and directing their light upward through foliage.

Some recent innovations offer protection even when the homeowner is away for the evening, on vacation, or at home settled for the night.

These include automatic timing devices which turn lights on at sunset and off at daybreak—electronically or with a clocking mechanism and remote control switches which enable the homeowner to turn on all outside lights from the bedside should there be suspicious noises during the night. Your local electrical distributor, contractor or electrical utility can give you information on this new lighting.

Nominations For Governor

Top positions on the state ballots for the May 8 primaries will be occupied by the names of candidates for governor — two for the Republican nomination and three for the Democratic nomination.

There is no real contest on the GOP side. James A. Rhodes has only token opposition.

Mr. Rhodes jumped into position as the man most likely to head his party's 1962 state ticket when he won his third term as auditor in 1960 with the largest majority ever given a candidate on the state ballot.

He has ably administered the auditor's office since 1953 and before that served 10 years as mayor of Columbus. His previous political experience included terms as member of the Columbus Board of Education and auditor of the capital city.

He promises an aggressive campaign for the November election and, on all these counts, merits the support of Republican voters for the gubernatorial nomination.

ON THE DEMOCRATIC SIDE, the contest is between Gov. Michael V. DiSalle and Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy, who decided to go after the nomination after the incumbent first announced he would not seek re-election.

Mr. McElroy was snagged on the hook of the governor's indecision and the fact he decided to stay in when he could have withdrawn after Gov. DiSalle changed his mind to the attorney general's credit. He has waged an aggressive campaign.

Gov. DiSalle's penchant for involving himself in controversy has become almost legendary. That in itself is not reprehensible, but in some situations his controversial stand seemed to have resulted less from political courage than from personal rancor.

THIS WAS THE CASE during the 104th General Assembly session last year, when the governor submitted a budget bill $75 million out of balance with anticipated revenue without making specific recommendations for raising the money and then lashed out at the Republican leadership for making its own decisions on how the available money should be spent.

Despite these weaknesses in tactics, however, Gov. DiSalle has displayed a thorough knowledge of state government and sincerity in the programs he espouses. While we have disagreed with him on some policies, there have been several in which we felt he evidenced good judgment and proper leadership.

For those reasons, and because he is the incumbent, we think he should have the nomination from his fellow Democrats.

Why They Want to Argue

It continues to be a curious fact that every move in Washington by people who have taken an oath to uphold the Constitution including its 14th and 15th amendments is jumped on by people who have taken an oath to uphold the Constitution minus its 14th and 15th amendments.

The 15th amendment says the rights of citizens of the United States shall not be denied or abridged by any state on account of race or color.

The 14th amendment says, among other things, that no state shall make or enforce any law to abridge citizen rights — that all persons shall have equal protection of the laws.

Yet, when officials who take these amendments to heart call attention to the way they are violated in some states that deny the rights of certain citizens to vote because of race and color they are accused by other citizens of playing fast and loose with the U.S. Constitution.

Is there any way to settle once and for all the claim of states that abridge the voting rights of Negro citizens that they can do this under the Constitution because the power belongs to them under states' rights?

Could it be determined in a way that would leave no room for doubt in the mind of any judge or politician that no state has any right to bar a Negro citizen from the polls only because he is a Negro, whatever hocus-pocus may be used to conceal the reason?

One course of action always has been open, though ignored studiously by southern legalists who argue that states' rights give carte blanche for disregarding the 14th and 15th amendments as is their right under Article V of the Constitution. That would clear the air. They couldn't muster a vote for such a monstrous proposal.

That is obviously what they don't want to do.

They've kept the issue confused so long they have half convinced some of their countrymen that the 14th and 15th amendments do not say what they plainly say.

They have made a career of obfuscation, like southern members of Congress who argue the same doctrine. In fact, many southern congressmen got to be Congressmen by being lawyers opposed to the 14th and 15th amendments to the Constitution all lawyers swear to uphold.

So We Just Hit the Moon . . .

Somewhere on a part of the moon that never has been seen from earth a tangle of wreckage "Made in U.S.A." awaits discovery by the first earthlings to reach the satellite. Somewhere else another tangle "Made in U.S.S.R." awaits discovery, too. The Russians were first.

Our rivals had intended to paint the moon red with their moon shot; they failed. But because they are trickier about public psychology, they never admitted failure. The U. S. moon shot, in contrast, is being regarded as half a failure because a complicated gadget supposed to send back information failed to work.

So we just hit the moon . . .

So some of our rockets don't do what they were supposed to do . . .

So some of our gadgets don't work . . .

Americans brood about their failures and minimize their successes. The Russians say nothing about their failures and play up their successes, thus setting a psychological trap.

Americans are peculiarly susceptible to the trap. We are savagely and relentlessly self-excoriating. We are so busy picking flaws we forget to bestow credit. We play to win, which is all right, but we forget to appreciate the skill of the loser that brought out the qualities of the winners.

The next time we remember to look at the moon, give a thought to the space scientists who can calculate the trajectory of a successful moon shot.

Imagine what would have been said 20 years ago if someone had announced: "We hit the moon where we planned to hit it but our fizzle-dazzle didn't work the way we had planned."

Wouldn't we have replied that the fizzle-dazzle was the least of it; that hitting the moon was what mattered?

The fizzle-dazzle can come later.

We hit the moon.

Protected by Laws

Protection by law is a cherished heritage in America, much in contrast to some totalitarian countries where men, rather than laws, dictate what is to be.

This is "Law In Your Life" week in Columbiana County, with special emphasis placed on the observance of Law Day Tuesday. It should not be confused with a lawyer's day, emphasizing that our precious freedom is preserved not by men nor politicians or statesmen, but by laws. This is in dramatic contrast to the system and results behind the "iron curtain."

Once Over

Jesse Keeney, whose doctor told him he must stop work, has obeyed and taken a job with the government.

Pete Witherby has had a Broadway play accepted. Nobody can understand the story but the characters are all sufficiently degenerate. The movies will bid for it if Pete will put in six more sexpots and two more seductions.

Ziggy Bingham who just won four-hour day quit yesterday when refused one-hour coffee break.

"Tubby" Hassenpfeff responded to the President's orders, "Don't ask what your country can do for you; ask what you can do for your country." He withdrew his request for free garden seeds and pledged himself to whistle "America I Love You" while taking bogus sick leave from munitions plant.

"Blinky" Hostetters has won the "Half-a-Man of Year" award, none of the other nominees being much good either.

Oswald Winch has given up the fight to stop his wife, who weighs around 200 pounds, trying to look like Jacqueline Kennedy and inserted classified notice: "I will no longer

Bliss Improvement

When the E. W. Bliss Company starts work this week on the construction of a $124,730 industrial building as part of a modernization program, it will mark the first sizeable factory improvement here in recent years. Altogether, Bliss will spend $250,000 because new machinery is to be purchased for the building.

The Bliss Company's continuing effort to improve and modernize its Heavy Equipment Division here is encouraging, to say the least.

By H. I. Phillips

Dewey Fletcher, who has six boys in armed services, has had to buy a new geography, an atlas and the services of a detective agency to find out where they are.

"Hoot" Willoughby's daughter, 16, eloped with a stranger who just dropped in expecting only a cup of coffee.

Abner Whortleberry, our local iron foundry operator, had a close call from being thrown into the Potomac. He had planned to raise prices 3 per cent but repented at the last minute.

"Dinty" Shaughnessy who built a fallout shelter is now using it to protect self from the ridicule of friends and neighbors.

THE LOST BATTLE

In Negro communities across the land — in the teeming hectic North as well as the more leisurely South — a new spirit soon may prevail.

It is the spirit of Ghandi and the voice of the Rev. Martin Luther King.

In more mundane terms the word is that a vast expansion in emphasis and tactics is waiting in the wings of the national stage.

The emphasis will be on massive, peaceful, persistent resistance eschewing any violence or provocation of violence.

The hope is to win millions of new adherents everywhere, while avoiding extremists who believe that the end justifies the means.

To encompass this, "to inspire, to teach, and to imbue" some 18 million Negroes fully to join in exercising, and whites in recognizing, every nuance of their constitutional prerogatives, the Rev. Mr. King and many clergymen and lawyers soon will launch "The Ghandi Society For Human Rights, Inc."

IT WON'T be an action cadre. It will, after a formal conference sometime in mid-May, collect funds so it can teach Ghandism to its followers. It will, according to its incorporation papers now awaiting approval from the attorney general of New York State, tell its supporters that:

"No part of the activities of the corporation shall consist of carrying on propaganda, or otherwise attempting to influence legislation, or participating in any political campaign on behalf of any candidate for public office."

It has a pulsating religious motif. But these are practical men, such as the lawyers group organized by one of the incorporators, Theodore W. Kheel. He has long advocated — in his national role as a leading labor arbitrator — great emphasis on peaceful mediation even in the most bitter of union-management conflicts.

Mr. Kheel has just been named special consultant to President Kennedy's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity. The admixture of religious and pragmatic fervor will parallel the Ghandi movement in India.

It will be aimed at Negroes' equal use of buses, schools, trains, restaurants, hotels and job opportunities in the North as in the South.

Sparks Fly In DiSalle, McElroy TV Debate

By The Associated Press
Gov. Michael V. DiSalle and Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy clashed headon in a televised "debate" in Cleveland Sunday night and the sparks that flew were hot.

A third candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, Alexander Metrakos of Cleveland, also was on the program, but he kept clear of the line of fire.

The chief issues were taxes, mental health, poll-taking, industrial development and legalized gambling.

McElroy charged that "the only candidate in Ohio who is going to raise taxes is the incumbent." The attorney general also contended the governor's tax seminars "were part of his political campaign and paid for with public funds."

In reply, DiSalle called the attorney general "the last angry man" in reference to the book of that title. The governor then added:

"The office I now hold is an honor that has come to only 55 men in Ohio. I treasure the honor . . . I could go on for some time and correct the misstatements that have been made, but this type of guttersniping is below the dignity of the office."

"I believe the people of Ohio are too smart to be taken in by that."

Metrakos stuck to just one theme: the way to raise more money to meet Ohio's needs is to legalize certain gambling operations. He said if bingo was legalized, a state lottery was established and dog racing was made legal, racketeering would be eliminated.

On mental health, DiSalle said: "I can say without reservation that there isn't a mental hospital in the state of Ohio that isn't better today than it was in January 1959 (when he took office)."

"I think the mental hygiene program has bogged down," McElroy said, "as a consequence of the governor's failure to present an adequate program to the General Assembly . . . There's been no lead in this direction in the state."

The pace of the one-hour program, KYW-TV's "Open Circuit," quickened when a viewer asked how each candidate felt the polls showed he would do against the probably Republican nominee, State Auditor James A. Rhodes.

McElroy claimed polls taken last August at four county fairs and again in December showed DiSalle would lose to the Republican by a 2-1 margin. "Our own polls show that we'll win the (primary) election and be much stronger against the Republican candidate," McElroy asserted.

Information about the polls, DiSalle said, comes right out of the attorney general's campaign literature. "He's been circulating this propaganda on polls for some time." The governor added:

"I lost every poll taken in 1958 and yet won by the largest majority of any gubernatorial candidate ever. I will depend on the May 8 poll and the one taken in November."

Also on the campaign trail Sunday was John Marshall Briley, the Republican candidate for the U.S. senatorial nomination. The Toledoan spoke in his hometown. He said the Soviet challenged will be tested on the political, economic and military fronts.

He said he thought the United States—and other free nations—"are losing on the political front. We shall continue to lose unless we prepare quickly and effectively to engage in the battle for freedom with all the resources at our command," Briley spoke at a GOP rally.

State Sen. Charles E. Fry of Springfield, also seeking the GOP nomination for U.S. senator, told of the principle issues to be determined in the elections this year is "whether or not the Kennedy administration is going to acknowledge the fact that we are at war, that our enemy is communism, and that we are losing the war."

Fry told the "Volunteers for Fry" that "the United States will continue to lose ground to communism until he bases our foreign policy on principle and self-interest rather than the present basis of political expediency."

HIGH JUMPER — Mrs. Susan Pol, 24, of Tracy, Calif., holds a picture of herself taken during one of her sky dives from an airplane to illustrate the point that she just unofficially broke the women's parachute record. Using a modified chute, special oxygen tanks and special clothing, Mrs. Pol jumped from 19,800 feet to beat the old record, held by a Czechoslovakian woman, by more than 6,000 feet. Because a recording device didn't work, she'll have to jump again to make the record official under international rules.

Elementary Principals to Meet In Leetonia Friday

LEETONIA — Dr. Virgil E. Blanke, superintendent of Massillon city schools, will deliver the main talk at the annual spring conference of the Elementary School Principals Department, East Central Ohio Teachers Association, at Orchard Hill School here Friday. His address is entitled "Human Relations and the Principal."

Hosts to the conference this year will be Columbiana county, city, local and exempted elementary principals. It is the fourth annual spring conference to be held by the group.

Registration of visiting principals will begin at 3:30 p.m. Superintendent Victor Wood of Leetonia is expected to welcome the group, after which a short business meeting will be conducted 4 to 4:45 p.m. Dinner will be served at 5.

The evening program will com-

Parked Car Coasts Into Side of Another

An unoccupied car coasted from a parking lot onto E. State St. near Vine Ave. at 8:01 p.m. Sunday and crashed into the side of a west-bound station wagon driven by Barbara J. Wilzek, 31, of 116½ E. 4th St., police report.

The driver was not injured but the right side of the station wagon received considerable damage.

Thelma Stewart of 970 S. Union Ave. told police that she had parked her car on a grade in the Dairy Isle lot and had just gotten out when the vehicle coasted back onto the street. The left rear fender of her car was damaged.

Another two-car accident occurred at 5:15 p.m. Saturday on E. 12th St. Police said Warren F. Loudon, 26, of 410 Benton Rd., backed from a private drive into the side of a west-bound car operated by Robert P. Vickers, 73, of 490 E. 12th St.

FBI PROBING FIRES

IRONTON, Ohio (AP) — The FBI reportedly is investigating a series of nearly 50 small fires in Wayne National Forest in Lawrence County.

Forest ranger Larry Haack said the fires of incendiary origin were started in the forest over the past three weeks. They involved about 100 acres and did not cause serious damage.

DeWitt Clinton, governor of New York and father of the Erie Canal, was instrumental in founding the state's first savings bank in 1819.

Mountain Music Topic Of Speaker

Mountain music was discussed by Mrs. Jack Tharpe of the Pine Mountain Settlement School when she appeared as principal speaker at the Salem Music Study Club's annual Guest Day luncheon recently at First Methodist Church.

Illustrating the various types of music, Mrs. Tharpe said many tunes have as their source the British Isles and have been carried by oral traditions. Mountain music is grouped into the lament, religious, singing games, and ballads.

Program Chairman Mrs. Raymond Mackall introduced the speaker.

Past presidents of the club who were present at the affair were recognized by Mrs. A. W. Killman, president, and presented with rosebuds in honor of past service. Honored were Mrs. L. W. King, Mrs. F. J. Stoudt, Mrs. Homer Taylor, Mrs. M. P. Livingston, Mrs. Curtis Vaughan.

Mrs. John Townsend, and Mrs. Howard E. Firestone.

A maypole surrounded by miniature dolls depicting famous women musicians provided the centerpiece for the luncheon tables. The dolls were individual favors. Arrangements of forsythia and jonquils completed the table decor. The decorations were executed by Mrs. Mackall and Mrs. Livingston.

The annual Junior Music Study Club musical tea will be an event of May 15 at 8 p.m. in First Presbyterian Church.

The club will observe Music Week in a program scheduled for Sunday at 3 p.m. in First Baptist Church.

The Smucker House will be the scene of the next club session on May 9.

Mrs. A. E. Christopher of Vine St. had as Sunday guests Mrs. James Stephens and children, Brian, James, Linda and Patty, and Mrs. Malcolm Janes, all of Cleveland.

Fire Destroys 18 Homes In New York

GLENS FALLS, N.Y. (AP) — Rain fell heavily Sunday night and extinguished the dying sparks of a fire that swept through parched woods and brush to destroy 18 homes just north of here.

There were no deaths, but about 35 persons were injured. Most of them were among the more than 2,000 firemen and volunteers who battled the wind-driven flames Saturday.

Only four of the injured required hospitalization, and only one was still in a hospital today.

The fire made a black wasteland of about 400 acres, rangers said. Only the foundations remained of the 18 small homes that lay in the path of the inferno.

Leslie Hillis, Warren County fire coordinator, said the cause of the fire had not been determined.

Leon Richardson, West Glens fire chief, said the fire might have been set off by "a spark from a car backfiring or a crane smashing against high-tension wires."

Cleveland Medical Center Expansion Set

CLEVELAND (AP)—Plans for a $54.8 million development program for University Medical Center were announced jointly Sunday by University Hospitals and Western Reserve University.

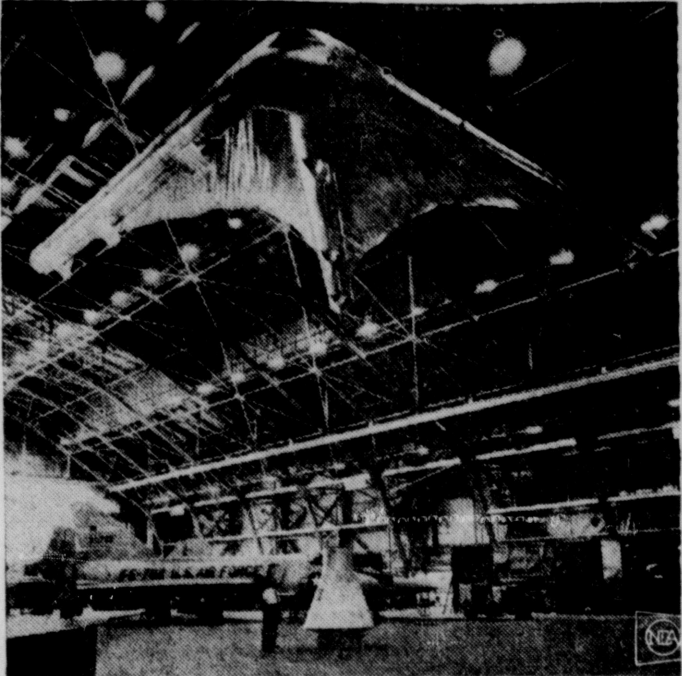

A joint trustee committee said work probably will start next spring, with completion of all projects hoped for within eight years.

Plans call for construction projects estimated to cost $44.8 million and establishment of a $10 million facility endowment fund to maintain and operate the proposed center.

Firemen Extinguish Three Grass Fires

Firemen were called to put out three grass fires Sunday. Two of the calls—one at 12:19 p.m. and the other at 3:38 p.m.—were to separate areas off Martin's Drive. Another grass fire was extinguished shortly after 8:15 p.m. on the south end of Sharp St. extension. There was no damage.

Saturday at 2:08 p.m., firemen were summoned to the 1800 block of Whinnery Rd. where a tree in the middle of a field was on fire. The cause was not determined.

WINGED MERCURY — A batlike "Rogallo wing" is suspended above a mock-up Mercury capsule in a hanger at Langley Research Center, Va. The Rogallo wing will be used in later flights of the two-man Gemini capsule to replace the conventional parachute when the capsule returns to earth from space orbit. The inflatable, steerable wing has a spread of 45 feet. The astronauts will control their landings using skids and outriggers for stability.

4 Tumble to Deaths As Plane Breaks Up

FOUNTAIN CITY, Ind. (AP)—Two businessmen and their wives tumbled one by one to their deaths Sunday as their light plane ripped apart 1,000 feet above Eastern Indiana farmland near here.

Killed in the crash were Carl L. Dehmer Jr., 36, Wichita, Kan.; his wife, Virginia, 35; Richard H. Ivers, 35, Sapulpa, Okla., and his wife, Grace, 34.

Deputy Sheriff H. D. McCann said it appeared the plane blew apart in the air and the victims tumbled to their deaths after the right wing fell off, ripping a gaping hole in the side of the cabin.

The two couples were returning home after a business trip to Fostoria, Ohio.

SMOKEY REPORTS

Forest Fires down in '61

Our forests were ripe for disaster last year. The West was dry—too dry—from years of drought. Lightning lashed the high country, setting more fires than ever recorded from that cause before.

A gloomy picture, yes, but what was the record? In this year of high fire hazard, with more folks than ever visiting our forests, the number of forest fires caused by people was near an alltime low.

This is a record to be proud of, but not one to be satisfied with!

Forest fires still take too much of our natural wealth each year. We can't afford to lose our scenic heritage, our wildlife, wood, and water.

With your help, Smokey will be able to report new gains in '62. Please be extra careful, won't you, with every fire?

Remember—only YOU can PREVENT FOREST FIRES!

Kennedy

plored and denied the mistaken impression—which he said many people gained from the dramatic steel price struggle—that inflationary pressures are fostered by industry's so-called greedy desire for profit.

"Nothing could be further from the truth," Wagner told about 4,000 delegates at the opening session of the chamber's 50th annual meeting. "Steel had already been subjected to three increases in wage costs as well as increases in other costs without an increase in price."

The chamber president declared that some of the constitutional checks and balances of the power of the executive have eroded with the years. He said further erosion could lead to "dictatorship or personal government."

Kennedy's speech to the nation's biggest business organization was his first appearance before a business audience since he forced the country's major steel producers to withdraw their $6 a ton price increase. The address was awaited with vast curiosity by the chamber delegates.

Wagner, chairman of the executive committee of Champlain Oil & Refining Co., told the delegates in his keynote address that business, in seeking to preserve the curbs on executive power, should not resort to name-calling and should work closely with government in the many fields in which there are common interests. Wagner told the delegates that "the two culprits slowing down America's growth are first, high taxation accompanied by deficits because of excess spending, and second, wage increases at a rate that is in excess of gains in productivity."

Goose

box, honking back or hissing when motorists honk at him. But why the five-year-old gander chooses to stay here is his secret. His owner speculates that the bird may be fascinated by traffic or that perhaps he may be afraid to go into the backyard where his spouse was killed in 1960. A popular, yet untrue, story making the rounds is that the female goose was killed on the Rt. 45 highway and he is waiting for her return.

THE FAITHFUL fowl leaves his spot, sheltered by a guard rail, only for breakfast back of the house. But he returns immediately to his adopted roadside haven. He is a familiar sight to countless motorists. "I've heard all kinds of wild goose stories, but this one tops them all," an Ohio State University poultry expert said when he heard of the goose.

Widower geese will often continue to guard the spot where the mate nested, poultrymen know. They have strikingly longer memories than chickens. But the nesting spot of the female in this case was far from the gander's post.

Each gander has a strong territorial sense; however, he should soon quit his post of duty after the demise of a mate, behaviorists say.

THERE IS MUCH ADO these days among fowl psychologists over the phenomenon called imprinting. In this case an inanimate object may replace the flesh-and-blood object of affection. Widowers soon pick up a new bride if one is available. Where no female is around, he may be imprinted to almost any object, even to the caretaker.

Despite all the wild goose guesses by both experts and non-experts, the goose isn't talking. He has a secret hidden from the prying minds of humans.

Nationwide Free-Wheeling Is Nearer to Reality

Progress on the Interstate Highway System

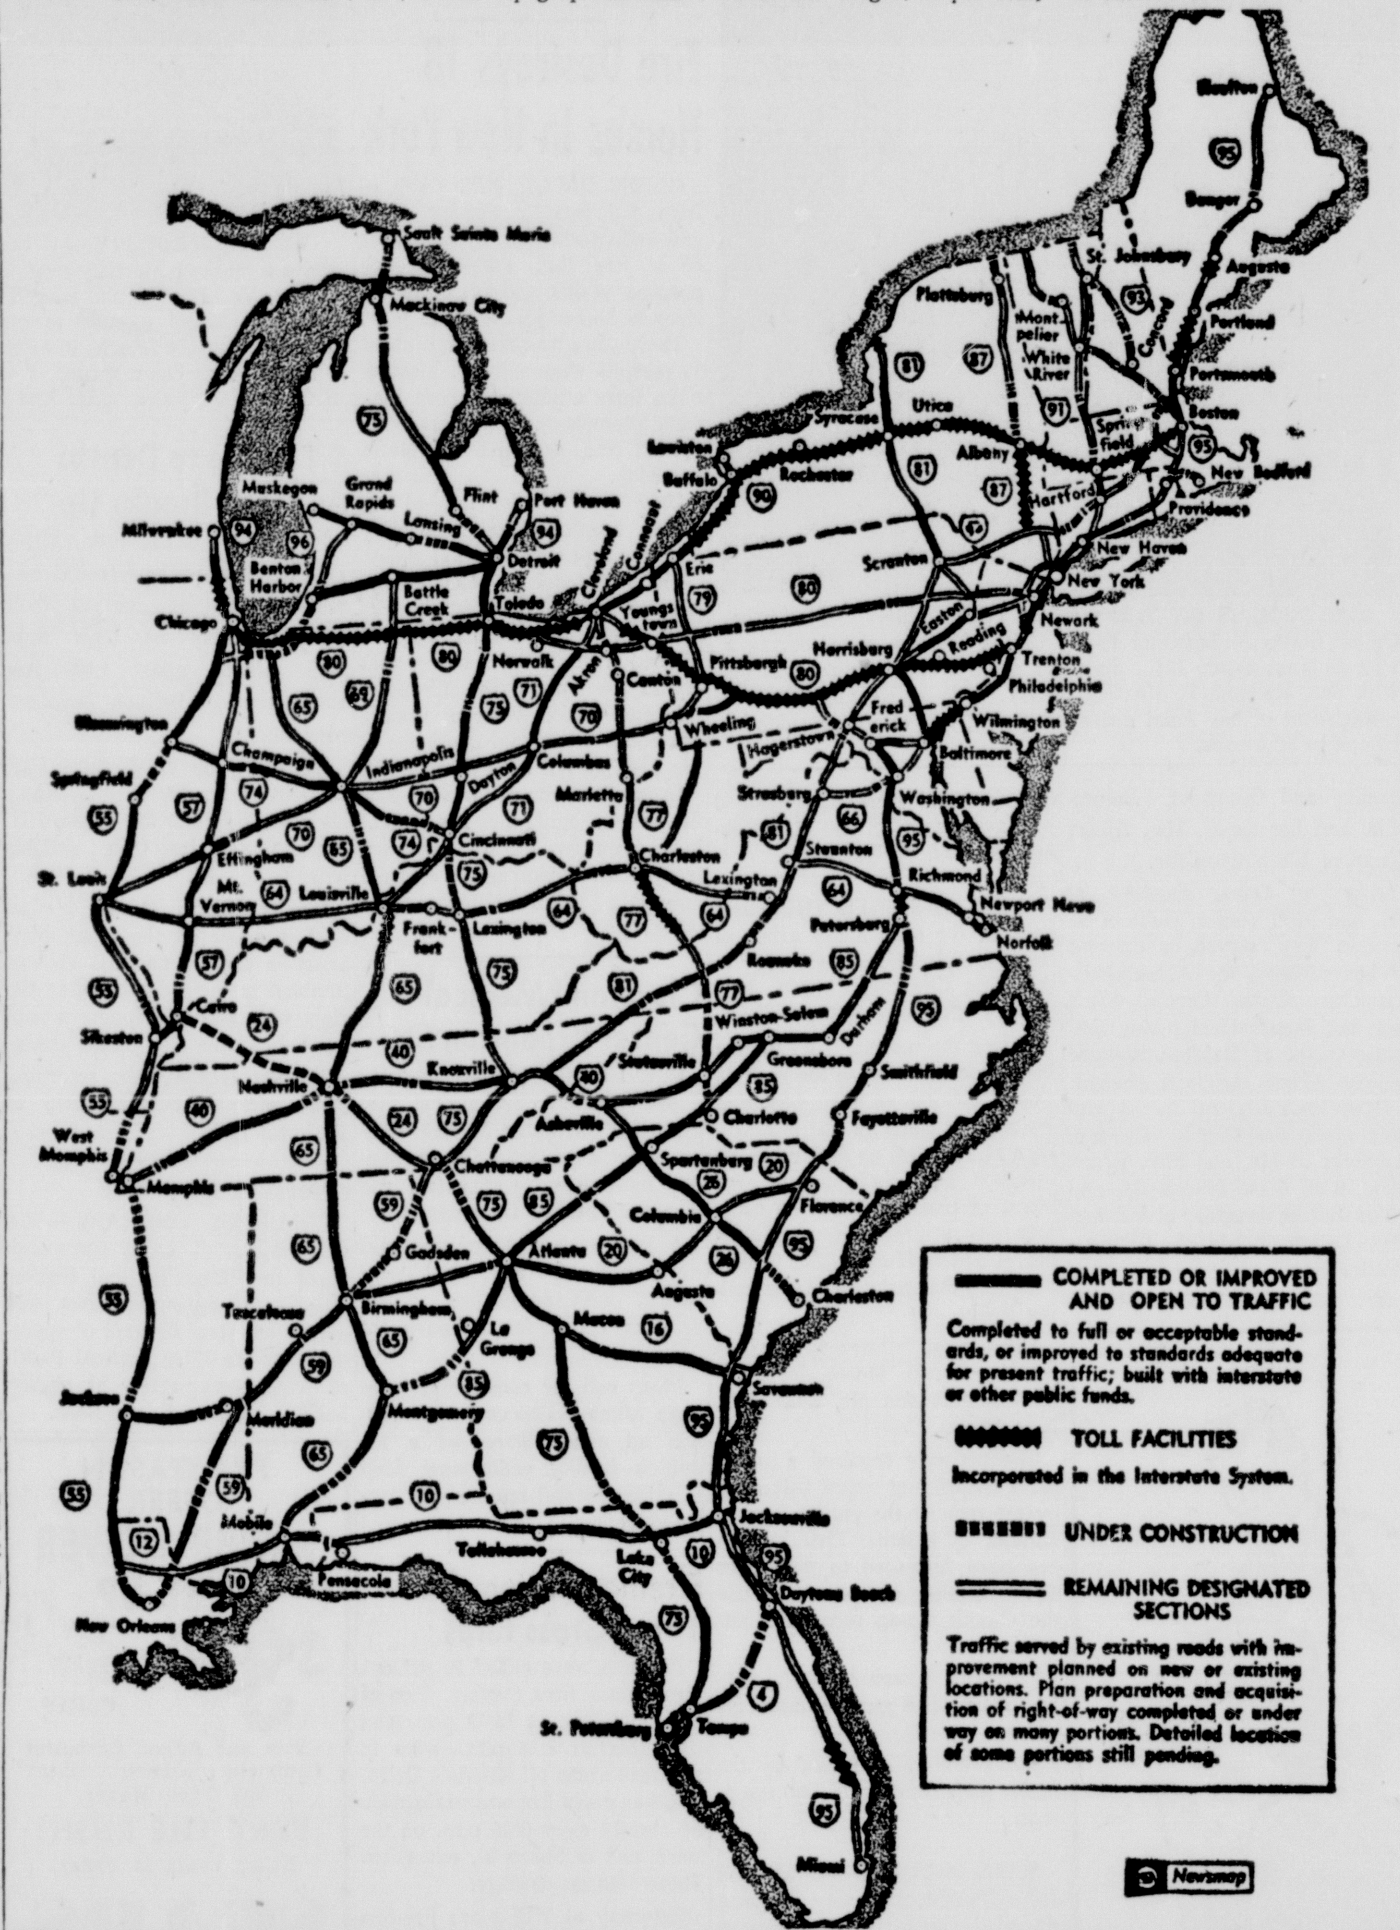

Construction of the national system of interstate and defense highways is progressing at a rate which presages its completion by the target date — 1972-75.

During 1961, work was either finished or well under way on 27,209 miles of the 41,000-mile system. Mileage open to traffic totaled 12,296, under construction

4,245 miles, while on 10,668 miles engineering and right-of-way acquisition was in progress. In some areas the project takes into the highway system existing roads; in others new, efficient routes are laid out between centers of population. They are built to uniform standards: multilane, limited access and, within topographical limitations, as straight as the crow flies.

The completed sections represent almost one-third of the entire system. It has been estimated that, when completed, the road network will carry 20 per cent of all highway traffic. Leading all states in the highest proportion of miles open to traffic are Oregon, 63 per cent, and New York, 60 per cent. Greatest mileage is planned in Texas (3,024 miles) and California (2,178). Alaska is the only state which does not have any plans for interstate mileage. Hawaii is working on a total of 48 miles and has opened a 12-mile stretch to traffic. (Map below shows interstate roads in eastern U.S.)

French Troop Maneuvers In Oran Mystify Observers

ORAN, Algeria (AP) — French army units occupied the center of Oran Sunday in a maneuver aimed against the terrorist Secret Army Organization, then suddenly withdrew today without any explanation.

The French army units returned to the center of the city later. The sudden switch mystified supporters of the secret army.

The troops had gone into the heart of Algeria's second city presumably to enforce a new ban against all vehicular traffic and parking in the heart of the city.

Citizens also were warned not to walk along roadways in the area or to form groups.

As soon as the units were withdrawn this morning, European settlers defiantly drove into the restricted area despite an earlier warning that security forces might fire on violators of the new restrictions.

The center of Oran is regarded by the secret army as its own territory.

There was some speculation that French officers, by shifting troops back and forth, were trying to draw hard-core secret army units into the open. The official attitude has been to invest the city without provoking an open and bloody clash with the French settlers' underground.

By midmorning a few troop patrols were back on the streets. They did not interfere with the illegal movement of traffic nor with pedestrians who defiantly walked in the streets instead of on the sidewalk.

An estimated 450 members of the Moslem local force, headed by French officers but responsible to the provisional government, moved into the city's outlying Moslem areas. The only order so far had been maintained there by armed commandos of the rebel army of national liberation.

The toll of terrorism was comparatively light in Algeria Sunday. There were 10 deaths and six injured reported. Nine of the dead were Moslems, and five of the six wounded were Europeans.

225 Democrats at Columbiana Dinner

About 225 persons attended a buffet dinner held Saturday night at the Joshua Dixon School at Columbiana by county Democratic officials.

Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, county party chairman, commented that the delay in reinstating three women to their jobs at the Lisbon courthouse is costing the taxpayers money. He said the courts have ruled the women be allowed to return to their posts but Prosecutor G. William Brokaw is "horsing around."

The women were replaced by three Republicans.

Gosney received a standing ovation when it was announced he is a candidate for state committeeman.

The hosts for the event were Gosney, Atty. Larry Stacey of Columbiana, candidate for state representative, Treasurer Vincent Judge, Auditor Kenneth Bell, Commissioner Frank Wilson, Clerk of Courts Carl L. Stacey, Probate Judge Louis Tobin, Coroner William A. Kolozsi, Democrat mayors and city chairmen. The county officials all spoke briefly.

Portsmouth AEC Manager Named

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (AP)—New manager of Atomic Energy Commission operations in the Portsmouth, Ohio, area is Roy V. Anderson, a veteran of 13 years with atomic energy programs.

Anderson, a native of Council Bluffs, Iowa, goes to his current assignment from Cincinnati where he had served as AEC deputy manager since 1957.

While serving in Cincinnati, he served on the Montgomery, Ohio, Village Council and as president of the Miami Valley Sports Car Club.

At Portsmouth he succeeds Robert H. Thalgott, a 14 year AEC veteran, who has been appointed assistant manager of operations for the commission's new Nevada office at Las Vegas.

Columbiana Social

Mrs. Edward Curl will receive reservations for the tea planned Tuesday night for Kindergarten Mothers. All mothers of children who will enter kindergarten next fall are invited.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Clausgas visited relatives in Massillon Sunday.

Jenny Lou, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Wulf, and Nancy Jean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Graft, were baptized Sunday in the Lutheran Church.

Pridon To Serve on Ohio School Unit

Sam Pridon, boys' guidance counselor at Salem Junior High School, received word today that he has been selected to serve on the constitution and by-laws committee of the Ohio School Council Association.

The choice was made at a meeting this month of the American Personnel and Guidance Association in Chicago. Ronald Jacobs of Alliance is chairman of the constitution and by-laws committee.

Lutheran Men Conclude Brotherhood Session Here

Ninety-eight delegates, nine alternates and 87 visitors attended the second annual convention of the Brotherhood of Ohio District of the American Lutheran Church held Saturday and Sunday at the Emmanuel Lutheran Church.

Carl Lash of Richmond, Ind., was the keynoteer and A. T. Christenson of Minneapolis, head of the parish conservation of the American Lutheran Church Brotherhood, was the main speaker.

Robert Reinhard of Canal Winchester was re-elected treasurer at the business session. Other officers carried over are Harry Grabel of Columbus, president; W. H. Myers of Canton, first vice president; Cletus Frahn of Celina, second vice president; and Richard Shealy of Bucyrus, secretary.

Dr. Charles Weaver of Columbus, assistant state supervisor of guidance service of the Ohio State Department of Education, was the main speaker at the fellowship banquet Saturday evening. Members of the Salem High School senior chorus provided entertainment.

Rev. Richard Freseman of the host church and Scoutmaster Jerry Martin presented "God and Country" awards to Richard Kaiser and Chester Burson at Sunday's worship service. Rev. Walter Ruth of North Canton was in charge of the service and used "The Church" as his topic.

Rev. Paul Varner of Washington, D.C., spoke on the stewardship of the American Lutheran Church at the session Sunday, at which time Reinhard was installed as secretary.

Woman Hospitalized When Hit By Cycle

Mrs. Craig Myers of West Richfield is in fairly good condition in Salem City Hospital where she was admitted Sunday for treatment of lacerations of the left foot and forehead received when she was hit by a motorcycle while walking on the road near the racetrack at Negley.

introduced Tuesday which would authorize the city to proceed with repaving Columbia St., E. 2nd St. and S. Broadway.

Solicitor Thomas Coe is preparing a resolution commending the Salem Jaycees for promoting their annual Student Government Day.

Council President Ford Joseph, Jr., indicated that the legislators may want to take action Tuesday which would clear up the problem of paying for 328 parking meters ordered by Mayor Dean B. Cranmer and installed here last year.

Solicitor Coe and Auditor Helen Coyne say the meters, costing a total of $14,544.50, were ordered by the mayor without proper authorization and can not legally be paid for by the city.

Council held a closed-door meeting and Joseph said a solution to the problem may be near. The meeting Tuesday is set for 7:30 p.m.

With the Patients

Michael Pahanish, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Pahanish of RD 2, Leetonia, is listed in good condition at Salem City Hospital with a fractured left leg suffered in a weekend motorcycle accident.

Stream Pollution At Palestine Kills Fish

EAST PALESTINE—Why were hundreds of fish killed in Leslie stream over the weekend? This is the question facing local authorities today as they seek a source of pollution to the stream that flows one and one-half miles from the eastern part of town to the disposal plant.

Hundreds of dead fish, ranging from a 10½ inch bass to minnow-size, were discovered Saturday and reported to authorities by a townsman passing by the stream. No industrial waste flows into the water.

NON-FICTION

ALL ABOUT AMERICAN HOLIDAYS by Maymie Krythe. Brief information about a great number of holidays arranged chronologically. Alternate names for the day, a short account of its origin, and something about how it is celebrated now is included. In all, fifty one different holidays are described.

THE SLIDE RULE by Robert Saffold and Ann Smalley. Nothing unusual about this book except that it is a Tutor, and the learners-at-home think those are the very best available.

THE EARTH, THE PLANETS AND THE STARS by K. E. Edgeworth. A presentation for laymen of the various theories of the formation of the planets and stars and of planetary evolution in general.

TEACH YOURSELF METEOROLOGY by "Aeolus". A simplified discussion of weather and climate for the layman.

THE DRIED FLOWER BOOK by Nita Cox Carico and Jane Calvert Guynn. Very clear directions for drying flowers which one ordinarily considers altogether perishable: color illustrations.

THE PROGRESSIVE FARMER'S SOUTHERN COOKBOOK. Full of traditional Southern recipes to make your mouth water. One nice feature of this book is a chapter of quantity recipes.

APPLIED TEXTILES by George E. Linton. Written primarily as a text, this contains a wealth of information about all types of fabrics - natural and man-made.

There are descriptions of various types of weaving, a textile bibliography, an appendix with many other types of useful information.

TRACK AND FIELD by Don Canham. The Track Coach at the University of Michigan describes in photographs and brief text each step in the various events of track and field.

THE ANTIQUE DEALER'S TALE by Yvonne de Bremond d'Ar. A delightful tale of Paris and the people who handle, sell, or buy antiques.

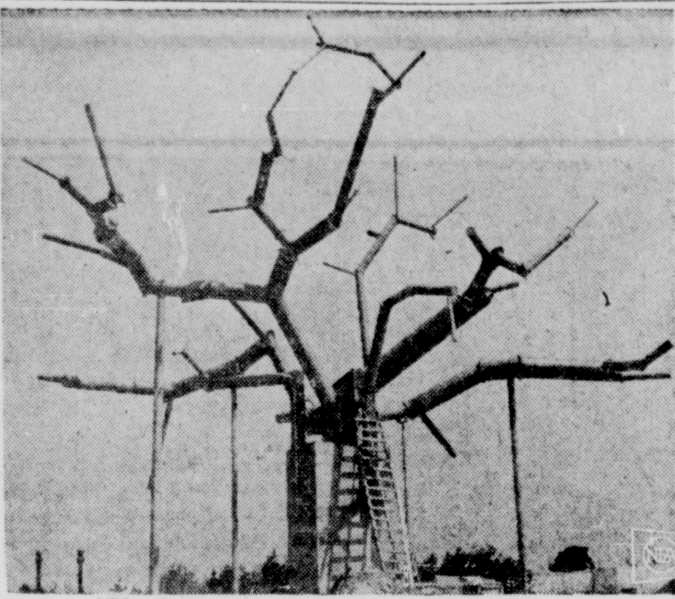

MATHEMATICAL PUZZLES AND DIVERSIONS by Scientific American Magazine. This is the second book of puzzles. There are many different kinds included, and it would be difficult to say which is the most intriguing.

FINAL HARVEST, edited by Thomas H. Johnson. A full selection from all the poetry of Emily Dickinson, with a brief introduction by the editor.

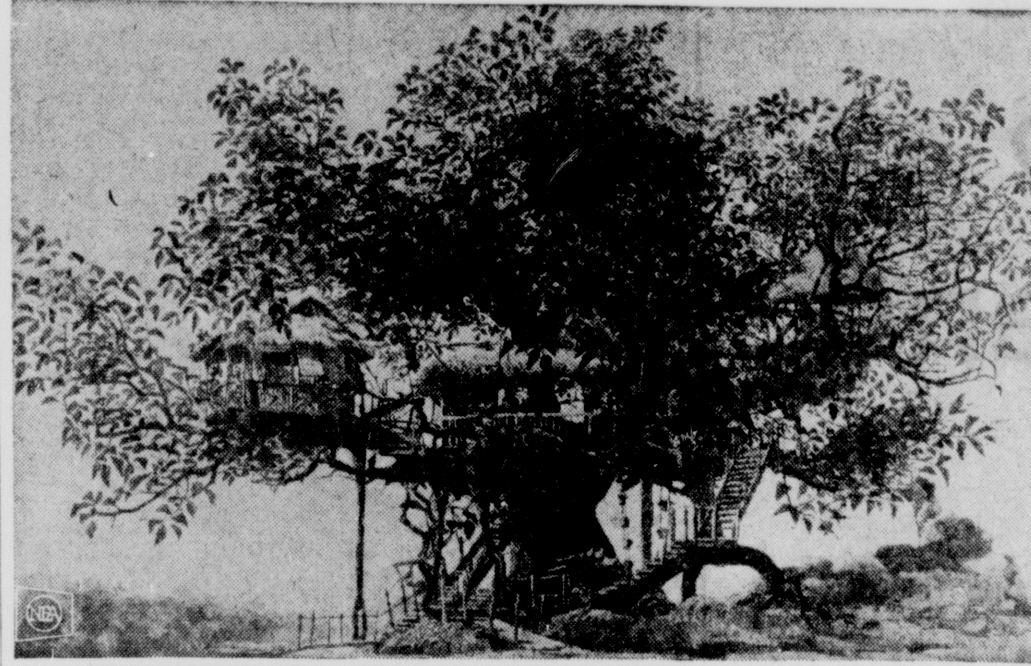

PEN TO PAPER by Pamela Frankau. A sort of autobiography of a writer while in the throes of writing, this is delightful reading as well as a source for many helpful suggestions for the would-be writer.

THE ORIGINS OF THE SECOND WORLD WAR by A. J. P. Taylor. The author here propounds his controversial theory that World War II was not premeditated by Hitler, but was the result of a series of diplomatic blunders on both sides.

NON-FICTION TO TURN THE TIDE, edited

"Plumber's revenge" will be turned into...

... out-of-this-world tree house when construction is completed at Disneyland.

'Whatizit?'

It's Out of This World

Resembling the tentacles of an octopus, a weird, six-story structure, at right, taking form above Disneyland's Jungleland, is a puzzlement to visitors. Some say it's a plumber's revenge but the photo below shows what it is to become — the world's largest tree house. When completed, it will sprout pink "leaves" and "orchids," and 200 people at a time can enjoy a panorama of the Magic Kingdom.

by John W. Gardner. A selection from President Kennedy's public statements from his election through the 1961 adjournment of Congress, setting forth the goals of his first legislative year. The book has a foreword by Carl Sandburg and one by President Kennedy.

ELIZABETH AND LEICESTER by Elizabeth Jenkins. Miss Jenkins' biography of Elizabeth was a best seller, and this detailed story of the relationship between her and the Earl of Leicester is a natural sequence. It is not only well researched, but makes interesting reading.

THE INHERITORS by John Feibel. This book is subtitled - "A Study of America's Great Fortunes and What Happened to Them". Some of the family fortunes included are the Astors, the Dodges of Detroit, the Dukes and Reynolds, the Vanderbilts, the DuPonts and the McCormicks.

THE FIRST HERETIC by Fred Gladstone Bratton. The author's promise in this book is that one individual can alter history, and that the Pharaoh Ikhnaton was one who did. He says this in the face of other historians' claim that Ikhnaton was unsophisticated in private life and naive in political life. Whoever is right, Ikhnaton's story is always a fascinating one, and this is the longest account of him to date.

MY OWN BACK YARD by Arthur Cavanaugh. A very personal, often poignant autobiography by a writer who had a long wait to be recognized as a good writer, and a still longer time to wait until he gained self-confidence.

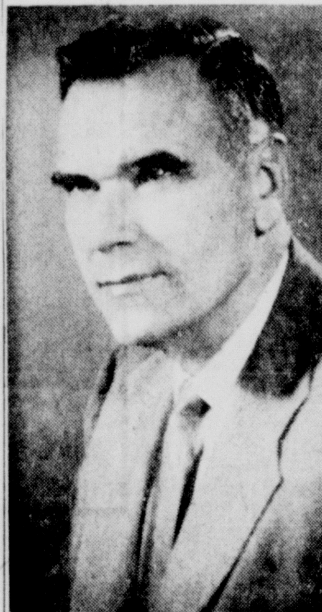

GOULD'S MILLIONS by Richard O'Connor. The story of Jay Gould's life and of his fabulous wealth - nearly all of which he successfully cheated out of other business men.

O RARE DON MARQUIS by Edward Anthony. Although it runs to 650 pages in length, this biography of one of America's best-known and best-loved humorists is never dull. Perhaps one reason for that is that much of it consists of quotations from things he wrote about himself at various times.

THE LIGHT OF OTHER DAYS by Rexford G. Tugwell. One of the men whose names were household words during the days of F.D.R.'s presidency writes of his boyhood.

THE LADY AT BOX 99 by Burton J. Rowles. The biography of Miriam Van Waters, now retired who was one of the country's best women penologists. The title is the address of the Framingham, Mass., Reformatory for Women where she worked for many years.

United High Speaker

Dr. Robert White

Dr. Robert White, vice president of Kent State University, will be speaker at United High School commencement exercises to be held at the school May 29 at 8:15 p.m.

Dr. White has been affiliated with Kent State since 1946 when he was appointed dean of the College of Education. He served as a professor of education from 1946 to 1958 when he was named vice president for academic affairs. He holds Ph. D., M.A. and Ph. D. degrees from the University of Chicago.

His topic at the United commencement will be "So Much Within Us." Seventy-seven members of the class of 1962 are scheduled to receive diplomas.

House Begins Work After Easter Recess

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House knuckles down to work today after a 10-day Easter vacation, while the Senate plods along with its debate over a bill to prevent racial discrimination in voter literacy tests.

No major bills were ticketed for immediate consideration in the House, but before the end of the week leaders hope to bring up a bill urged by President Kennedy to set up a private corporation to own and operate a communications satellite system.

Before the week ends Senate leaders reportedly plan to initiate a move to clamp a time limit on the debate that began last Wednesday on the voter literacy bill—the administration's principal civil rights measure.

The bill, strongly opposed by its Southern foes, would exempt anyone with a 6th-grade education from having to take a state literacy test to qualify as a voter in presidential and congressional elections.

The first step in invoking the Senate's anti-filibuster rule is filing of a cloture—or debate limitation—petition signed by 16 senators.

Once such a petition is filed, it automatically is put to a vote one hour after the Senate meets on the second day thereafter. Its adoption requires a two-thirds majority of senators voting.

A two-thirds majority never has been obtained for breaking a filibuster against a civil rights bill, but party leaders say they may have a better chance this time since the 1960 Democratic and Republican platforms called for a literacy test measure.

Twitter May Have Caused Electra Crash Fatal to 62

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — A high-pitched twitter, comparable to the sound of crickets in late summer, may have caused the 1960 crash of an airliner in Boston.

The Federal Aviation Agency's Civil Aeromedical Research Institute here has reached that conclusion after a two-year study of the apparent affinity between starlings and Lockheed Electra aircraft.

The crash Oct. 4, 1960 killed 62 persons. Starlings — small birds that fly in flocks and feast on crickets — were found in the Electra's turbo-prop engines.

It wasn't the first time Electra had been bothered by starlings, the institute said. Several times before the Boston crash, Electras were forced to abort flights because of ingestion of the birds.

After the Boston crash, institute researchers began to think there was something in the aircraft engines attracting the starlings, said Dr. Stanley Mohler, director, and researcher John Swearingen in their report.

The whine produced by the aircraft's engines contains a high-pitched twitter that sounds like a swarm of crickets, the investigators said.

Investigators made tape recordings of cricket sounds and the sounds of various aircraft engines, including the Electra. "The only similar sounds were those of the crickets and the Electra engines," report Mohler and Swearingen.

This is the reason, said the researchers, the Starlings flock behind Electras as they taxi prior to takeoff.

Yankees Sweep Pair From Senators To Gain League Lead

AL Batters Tie Homer Record

Swatters Blast 27 Balls Into 'Orbit'

By JOE REICHLER Associated Press Sports Writer

Boom! Boom! Boom! It looked like the Fourth of July the way those baseballs were being shot out of American League parks Sunday.

A record-tying total of 27 home runs were belted by 23 swatters from the junior circuit, including six solo home runs in one game by the Minnesota Twins, which equaled another league record.

Including the 22 homers wallowed by the National League, the majors had a grand total of 49, just one shy of the record set by the two leagues on May 30, 1956. The American League mark of 27 was set on May 28, 1961.

Three home runs — by Roger Maris, Cleto Boyer and Bill Skowron — helped the New York Yankees sweep a doubleheader from Washington 3-2 and 11-6, and boosted them into first place, a half-game in front of Chicago.

The White Sox hit only one homer in their 2-1 and 5-1 twin bill sweep over Boston's Red Sox but that homer, by rookie Mike Hershberger, accounted for the winning run in the opener.

Minnesota, held homerless in its 8-4 first game victory over Cleveland, went on a six-homer binge, two by Johnny Goryl, to grab the second game, too, 7-3. The defeats dropped the Indians from first to third, a game behind the leaders.

Detroit defeated Los Angeles 13-6 in a slugfest that featured six home runs, four by the Tigers. Baltimore also had four homers in downing Kansas City 8-3.

Whitey Ford won his second game for the Yankees, going the route in the opener with a seven-hitter. It was his 160th lifetime victory against 63 defeats for a .7174 percentage, top winning average of all pitchers with more than 100 victories.

Early Wynn, 42-year-old White Sox right-hander, pitched a three-hitter in the nightcap for a Chicago sweep of the four-game series with Boston. It was Wynn's first triumph since last July and the 23rd of his career.

Singles by pinch hitter Harmon Killebrew and Bill Tuttle featured a four-run rally by Minnesota in the eighth inning to break up a 4-4 tie with Cleveland in the opener. Tuttle had three hits in the second game including a home run. Other Minnesota home run hitters, besides Goryl, were Zoilo Versalles, Lenny Green and Don Mincher.

The Tigers had two big innings — seven runs in the third and five in the fifth — against the Angels as Al Kaline, Dick Brown, Billy Bruton and Jake Wood homered.

Little Albie Pearson had three consecutive doubles for the Angels, giving him six straight extra base hits in two games and tying a record held by several players.

Baltimore scored six runs in the seventh to overcome a 3-2 Kansas City lead. Russ Snyder opened the inning with a pinch homer. Jim Gentile also homered in the inning, his second of the game.

ACCRA, Ghana — Dramane Quedraogo, 146, Ivory Coast, outpointed Amaral Amarquaye, 142½, Ghana, 15.

Pirates Blast LA 6-1, 1-0; Mets, Phils Split Twin Bill

By BOB GREEN Associated Press Sports Writer

It should have happened in Brooklyn. The Mets-Phillies game, that is. Dizzy as the Dodgers at their daffiest. The only thing lacking was Casey Stengel letting a sparrow out of his cap.

That was the fourth inning of the New York Mets' first game with Philadelphia Sunday. New York got seven runs on four hits, two hit batters, a wild pitch, two errors, a stolen base, a sacrifice fly and some incredible Philadelphia play afield.

It put the Mets off and winging to an 8-0 triumph that extended their winning string to two. The streak was halted in the nightcap when the Phillies bombed Casey's boys 10-2.

In a more sober affair at St. Louis, Stan Musial went 5-for-6 with two homers as St. Louis split with Cincinnati, the Cards taking the first 16-3, the Reds the second 4-3. In San Francisco, Jack Sanford and Billy Pierce had three-hit shutouts as the Giants swept two from Chicago, 7-0 and 6-0. In Los Angeles, Pittsburgh regained the top spot with a sweep against the Dodgers, 6-1 and 1-0. In Houston, Roman Mejias' ninth inning homer brought the Colts a 3-2 decision over Milwaukee.

The Mets' fourth inning was as weird as Frankenstein and complicated as a Russian novel. It featured, among other things, the Mets putting two runners on third at the same time.

When it was over, the Mets had seven runs and rookie Al Jackson, who spaced eight hits, had his first victory. Home runs by Tony Gonzalez, Don Demet and Wes Covington featured the angered Phils 14-hit attack off four New York pitchers in the second game.

Bobby Locke, who allowed only one hit over 4 2-3 innings, got the victory in relief.

Vada Pinson and Godfrey Coleman of the Reds and Musial socked home runs in each game at St. Louis. Musial's big day, boosted his average to .396. The Cardinal loss and the sweeps by Pittsburgh and San Francisco dropped St. Louis from first to third.

Pittsburgh took over first on the pitching of Bob Friend (4-1) and Al McBean (3-0). Friend threw a four-hitter at the Dodgers in the first and McBean shut them out on seven hits in the second.

Ed Bailey's home run and three San Francisco double plays supported Pierce's three-hitter against the Cubs. Willie Mays crashed his sixth homer of the season with a man on base, all the working room Sanford needed in his opening three-hitter.

Mejias' fourth homer of the season broke a 2-2 tie and won it in the bottom of the ninth for the Colts. Hal Smith and Jim Pendleton also had homers for the winners, and Frank Bolling got one for the Braves. Dick Farrell, who faced only one man after relieving starter Hal Woodeschick in the ninth, got the victory.

Tribe Drops To Third After Bombardment by Minnesota

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians stayed in first place exactly a week, then fell to third place under a home run bombardment by the Minnesota Twins.

The shellacking came Sunday as the Twins swept a doubleheader at Cleveland Stadium, 8-4 and 7-3, hitting six solo homers in the nightcap off Gary Bell (2-1) and Barry Latman. The six homers with none on base tied a major league record.

Latman (1-3) was tagged with the loss in the opener when Minnesota rallied for four runs in the eighth inning to crack a 4-4 tie. The big hits were pinch singles by Harmon Killebrew and Bill Tuttle, accounting for three runs. Jim Lemon's sacrifice fly delivered the final run.

Chuck Essegian crashed a two-run homer for the Indians in the opener, and Al Luplow connected with a solo shot in the first inning of the second contest to get Bell off to a 1-0 lead.

But, although Bell seemed sharp—striking out seven in six innings the Twins were tuned in on his gopher ball. The homer hitters were Johnny Goryl, who hit two roundtrippers for his first hits in the American League, and Lenny Green, Don Mincher, Zoro Versalles and Tuttle.

Minnesota whacked out 25 hits, 13 of them in the nightcap. Don Lee (2-1) limited the Tribe to eight hits in the second game after Dick Stigman (2-1) picked up the triumph in relief in the opener when the Indians had 10 safeties.

Cleveland Manager Mel McGaha was puzzled by the home run spree against Bell. "It certainly was a peculiar thing," he said. "When they weren't hitting home runs, he was striking them out."

Cleveland travels to Cincinnati for an exhibition game with the defending National League champions tonight. Don Rudolph will pitch for the Indians against the Reds' Howie Nunn.

The Tribe returns to action in the American League Tuesday night playing host to Los Angeles. Sam McDowell (1-0) is scheduled to pitch for Cleveland.

Two-time Olympic champion Al Oerter threw the discus 198 feet 6 inches. He missed the world record by 8½ inches as he and the record holder, Jay Silvester, staged a tremendous duel. Silvester's world mark is 199-2½.

Meet director Hilmer Lodge said everything is in order as far as he knows for record application on Tor's mighty leap.

Still on the books, and looking rather insignificant, is the 15-9½ height set by Don Bragg in 1960.

Palmer Birdies 18th To Win Texas Open

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Arnold Palmer slammed a 7-iron 170 yards within 18 inches of the cup on the 18th hole in another of his dramatic finishes Sunday. He sank the birdie putt and became the first man to win the $30,000 Texas Open three years in a row.

It was Palmer's third birdie on the four closing holes and it gave him a four-under-par 67 and 273 for 72 holes for a one-stroke triumph.

Palmer wins his greatest victories by coming from behind and the huge crowd on the 18th green sensed he had won although two mighty contenders for the title—Gene Littler and Joe Campbell—were yet to come in.

Palmer won his fourth tournament of the year and ran his money earnings to $41,308.33.

Littler, the National Open champion, who had taken a two-stroke lead for 63 holes, faded on the incoming nine and wound up in a tie for second with Campbell, Doug Sanders and Mason Rudolph.

Littler had a 69, Campbell 70, Sanders 69 and Rudolph a 67 on the final 18. All ended up with 274 for 72 holes.

Palmer, who took down first money of $4,300, has won 30 tournaments in his 7½-years career.

UNITED BOOSTERS TO MEET A meeting of the United Local Boosters Club will be held Tuesday night at 7:30 at the high school. President Kenneth Wicksham urges all members to attend and submit outstanding bills. This will be the last meeting until September.

HAS 1ST DOUBLE-EAGLE Jim Wingard scored the first double-eagle of the season on the Salem Golf Club's third hole (par 5) Saturday by sinking his second shot. His score for the 18 holes was 38-35-73. The course will be officially opened Saturday.

WINS AT CANFIELD Gus Acozilli of Warren provided the big surprise at Canfield Speedway Saturday night by winning the 25-lap late model feature and he'll be back Saturday night when the late models and amateurs get together for an eight-race stock car racing program.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Owners and trainers with 3-year-olds eligible for Saturday's Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs apparently don't scare easily—even in face of recent eye-popping performances by Sir Gaylord and Ridan.

Sir Gaylord, unbeaten in four starts this year, and Ridan, all-winning last year and not far off that pace this season, stand out. Still as many as 15 horses are expected to start in the 1¼-mile $25,000-added blue ribbon turf classic.

The latest issue of the future book odds from Caliente quoted Sir Gaylord the 7-5 choice with Ridan held at 2-1.

Ridan, beaten twice in Florida by Sir Gaylord before the latter was sidelined by an ankle injury late in February, won the Blue Grass Stakes at Keeneland last Thursday in 1:47 3-5 one and one-eighth miles. He then finished out the derby distance in:01, two-fifths of a second faster than the derby distance in 2:01, two-away in 1941.

Sir Gaylord, making his first appearance since winning the Everglades at Hialeah Park, reeled off seven furlongs in 1:22 2-5 Saturday in taking the Stepping Stone Purse on the slower Churchill Downs track. He proceeded to work out the derby distance in 2:02 2-5.

Off the two displays of speed and stamina, the 88th run for the roses shapes up as a two-horse race.

Still there are more than a

Kenst, Washington Cop 1sts In Annual Marble Tourney

Kenny Kenst, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Kenst of 643 Franklin Ave., and Wayne Washington, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Washington of 570 W. Wilson St., emerged victors in the fifth annual marble tournament held Saturday at the Centennial Park Tennis Courts.

Five boys entered in the 10-13 age bracket, won by Kenst, while three participated in 13-15 competitions, won by Washington. The tourney is sponsored by Allen K. Reynolds Post 892 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and by the Salem Park Commission.

Kenst and Washington will now go to the district matches to be held at Dover Saturday. Nine counties are represented at the district, with the winners going to the state competitions.

This is the fifth consecutive year Washington has been a winner in the matches.

Dayton Team Sets National Relay Record

By The Associated Press Dayton Roosevelt's two-mile relay team shattered a national scholastic record Saturday as the defending state Class AA track champions continued to blaze a wide path through high school relay meets.

The Teddie quartet of Lee Calhoun, Charles Reed, Al Payne and Warren Hand roared through the two miles in 7:49.85 at the Bellaire relays. The previous national mark was 7:50.2 set last year by Tasco High School, Amarillo, Tex.

Roosevelt won the 11th running of the relays handily and joined Springfield South, Montpelier, Lima Senior and Toledo Woodward in the weekend relay championship circle.

Springfield South and Montpelier also won titles at the Springfield Relays. South led the Class AA division and Montpelier annexed the "A" crown.

Lima Senior captured the open division title at the first Sandusky Invitational Track and Field Meet, and Toledo Woodward won the relay division. Host Sandusky was runnerup in both divisions.

Milliken Sets New Hurdles Record At United Local

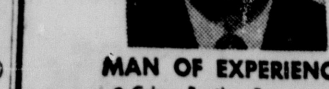

United Local's Gary Milliken set a new school record in the low hurdles when the Golden Eagles placed sixth in a field of eight teams in the Dover Tornado Relays held Saturday at Dover. Cadiz won the meet, racking up 51 points.

Milliken cleared the hurdles in 22.85 to break the old record of 23.2 set two years ago. In addition to winning the hurdles Milliken placed fifth in the 440 run. United now stands 1-3 in dual meets. The Eagles battle Beaver Local tonight and Columbiana Tuesday.

WINS AT CANFIELD

Gus Acozilli of Warren provided the big surprise at Canfield Speedway Saturday night by winning the 25-lap late model feature and he'll be back Saturday night when the late models and amateurs get together for an eight-race stock car racing program.

Gaylord Favored In Kentucky Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Owners and trainers with 3-year-olds eligible for Saturday's Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs apparently don't scare easily—even in face of recent eye-popping performances by Sir Gaylord and Ridan.

Sir Gaylord, unbeaten in four starts this year, and Ridan, all-winning last year and not far off that pace this season, stand out. Still as many as 15 horses are expected to start in the 1¼-mile $25,000-added blue ribbon turf classic.

The latest issue of the future book odds from Caliente quoted Sir Gaylord the 7-5 choice with Ridan held at 2-1.

Ridan, beaten twice in Florida by Sir Gaylord before the latter was sidelined by an ankle injury late in February, won the Blue Grass Stakes at Keeneland last Thursday in 1:47 3-5 one and one-eighth miles. He then finished out the derby distance in:01, two-fifths of a second faster than the derby distance in 2:01, two-away in 1941.

Sir Gaylord, making his first appearance since winning the Everglades at Hialeah Park, reeled off seven furlongs in 1:22 2-5 Saturday in taking the Stepping Stone Purse on the slower Churchill Downs track. He proceeded to work out the derby distance in 2:02 2-5.

Off the two displays of speed and stamina, the 88th run for the roses shapes up as a two-horse race.

Still there are more than a dozen horses on the ground whose trainers and owners say they are here to run in the derby.

The group includes Townsend B. Martin's speedy but unpredictable Sunrise County, Fred Hooper's Admiral's Voyage, Fred Turner Jr.'s Sir Ribot, Neil S. McCarthy's Royal Attack, Verne Winchell's Donut King, Peter Salmen Sr.'s Crimson Satan, L. C. Sternberger's Doc Jockey, Robert Lehman's Pregl T. A. Grissom's Roman Line and Joe W. Brown's Green Hornet.

Then there is Cicada, a top-flight filly and stablemate of Sir Gaylord. She won the Oaks prep Saturday at Churchill in even faster time than Sir Gaylord's in the Stepping Stone, going the seven furlongs in 1:22 1-5.

LITTLE LIZ

The Doctor Says

By DR. H. T. HYMAN
Warding Off Tuberculosis

Some time ago, I reported a small epidemic of tuberculosis among school children whose bus driver proved to be the source of their infection. Of present concern is another epidemic that occurred in a British primary school and an outbreak aboard a U.S. Navy picket destroyer.

In the less serious British experience, the discovery of a form of skin tuberculosis in 10 children led to a survey that revealed 23 additional infections in the school. Of these, 21 were in a single classroom. In this classroom, the source of the infection was thought to be a little girl who had been in contact with the infection for at least two years.

As a result of her presence, more than 60 per cent of her classmates gave positive reactions to tuberculin tests as against slightly over 10 per cent in the rest of the school.

ALL THIS MIGHT HAVE been prevented if the little girl had been given simple treatment with an antituberculous pill or if she had been vaccinated with BCG.

In the case of the outbreak in our Navy, the source was presumably a young electrician who had been associated with a civilian friend, known to have had active tuberculosis, some four months previously.

Within a period of 18 months, the young electrician's infection had spread to involve 62 of the ship's complement of 236 enlisted men and officers. Most of these secondary infections occurred in the sleeping quarters occupied by the young man in question.

As a result of the alertness and competence of the Naval Medical Department, the epidemic was brought to an abrupt halt.

HERE ARE SOME of the lessons that have emerged from these disturbing experiences:

Tuberculosis may be acquired from inhalation of resistant airborne bacilli even though there has been no direct person-to-person contact with the primary source.

Resistance to tuberculosis may be acquired by BCG vaccination in infancy provided that the vaccine produces a positive tuberculin reaction.

Persons whose tuberculin reaction converts from negative to positive, especially after known exposure to a person with proven active infection may be protected by simple treatment with an antituberculous pill.

And finally, the tubercle bacillus may be knocked to the canvas innumerable times by the powerful drugs now at hand. But, until he is nailed in his coffin, he remains a dangerous foe.

HIGHWAY TO ADVENTURE — Soon American and Canadian sportsmen and tourists will be traveling the longest national highway in the world. Within the year, the Trans-Canada Highway which crosses the country from Newfoundland to British Columbia — a distance of almost 5,000 miles — will be complete, at a total cost of nearly $1 billion. The unique feature of the road is that the natural beauty of the countryside it runs through has been preserved. Beautiful forests and plains, chasms and alps, roaring rivers and placid lakes beckon the motorist.

School Levy Questions, Answers

The Salem Board of Education and Supt. of Schools Paul E. Smith have compiled a list of the most common questions raised in respect to the 8.5-mill school renewal levy on the May primary ballots, and their answers to them. Several of the questions and answers will appear periodically in The Salem News as a public service. The board and Supt. Smith solicit other queries residents may have on the levy. They may be sent to Supt. Smith at the Junior High School. The first list of questions and answers follows:

—Why is it necessary to renew the 8.5-mill school levy?

A—By the end of 1962 increasing salary costs for all 228 school employees, increases in prices for books, educational supplies and other operating costs will have eaten into the extra money provided by the "emergency" levy until the margin of revenue over expenditures will have been greatly reduced.

Failure to renew the 8.5 - mill levy will create a far greater "emergency" than 1959 and 1960 if the present quality of education is to be maintained in providing:

- The present program of increasing and extended library books.
- Enriched and expanded curriculum offerings.
- Improved salary schedules to enable Salem to obtain and hold good teachers.
- The general improvement of the quality of education.

Q—How much of the income of the Board of Education does the 8.5 mills represent?

A—The 8.5 mills will provide approximately $390,000 or 26 per cent of our operating cost. Without this amount we would be $92,000 shy of being able to pay the present salaries of all 228 school employees, let alone all the operating costs of books, supplies, heat, light and transportation.

NEW BRIDGE IN CARROLL

Earl Newell & Sons of Columbiana expect to start work May 14 on the construction of a new Route 164 bridge between Perrysville and Kilgore in Carroll County. The new 32-foot wide concrete slab will replace a 20-foot wide structure at that point. Cost of the project is $39,759 and work will be done by Aug. 31.

TIRE THEFT REPORTED

Orval Lake of MC 1, Salem, told police that a tire and wheel valued at $30 were stolen from his car while it was parked in the Central Clinic lot Thursday night.

In The Service

Robert W. McAndrews, seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. George McAndrews of Black Hawk Rd., Leetonia, is serving aboard the dock landing ship USS Donner, a unit taking part in the first Atlantic Fleet Amphibious Force exercise of the year, to be climaxed with an assault landing on the island of Vieques, Puerto Rico.

William M. Cope, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Cope of 353 W. Pine St., Lisbon, and Raymond Everhart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Maner of RD 1, Hanoverton, are taking nine weeks training at the Great Lakes, Ill., naval training station.

Airman Basic Roger E. Black, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Black of RD 5, Lisbon, is being assigned to the Air Force technical training course for aircraft maintenance specialists at Sheppard AFB, Tex.

Black has completed his basic training at Lackland air base, Texas.

Army Specialist Wayne F. Armstrong, son of Mrs. Minnie E. Armstrong, 324 1/2 W. Lincoln Way, Lisbon, recently participated in the U. S. Army, Alaska, Commanding General's smallbore military competition for 1962.

Armstrong, a computer specialist in Company D of the 23rd Infantry at Fort Richardson, Alaska, entered the Army in December 1954 and was last stationed at Fort Hood, Tex.

The 25-year-old soldier attended David Anderson High School in Lisbon. His wife, Margot, lives in Anchorage, Alaska.

Neal E. Draime, machinist's mate first class, USN, son of Mrs. Mildred Draime of RD 2, Columbiana, is serving aboard the nuclear-powered guided missile cruiser USS Long Beach.

Mrs. Robert Miles and Mrs. Morrison Luce are leaders of the troop.

Mrs. Robert Ellyson was chairman in charge of refreshments served from a table decorated with spring flowers.

Girl Scout pins and wings were given each girl by Mrs. Miles.
